

It has 14 colours to represent the different churches.

It has brick work in the centre as the parish is build together.

The cross could be a futuristic colour to show we are building a future.